

RICHFIELD LIVING EXPANSION MILESTONES

Richfield Living embarked on two large scale expansion projects at their Salem and Roanoke, Virginia campuses. At the Salem campus, Phase I is complete which included constructing a new rehabilitation building, Town Center, and two Independent Living buildings. In Roanoke, a new Health Center provides the household model of care for 116 new resident rooms with public spaces. The Salem campus Phase II Independent Living expansion will commence in the fall, with ARCH serving as the construction monitor.

SPEAKING HIGHLIGHTS

ARCH's Frank Muraca recently presented a webinar for LeadingAge Maryland on Development During a Pandemic: Best Practices & Lessons Learned. The recently completed Glenmere expansion Project was used as a case study. Audience members walked away with an understanding of lessons learned constructing during a pandemic and operational considerations when opening a new building on an existing campus. Next up for the ARCH team, Brit Vipham presents at LeadingAge Ohio on The COVID-19 Aftermath: Reinforcing Appropriate Design.

BROADMEAD NEW ENTRY COMPLETE

Broadmead, a Life Plan community in Cockeysville, Maryland has completed a new campus entry component of a phased repositioning project. Included as part of the entry road project is a new traffic signal, creating an ease for those entering and leaving the community. Work continues elsewhere on campus as ARCH serves as Owner's Representative with the final project components anticipated completion in summer of 2022.
