

SUMMER SUCCESSFUL CLOSEOUTS

Across the country, ARCH saw the completion of two successful construction projects this summer. The first, a medical office building in Gilbert, Arizona, where ARCH served as project manager overseeing the shell and core work. In Staunton, Virginia, ARCH served as development advisor from initial planning to final close out for The Legacy at North August repositioning project.

STAYING TRUE TO OUR ROOTS

ARCH reexamined what made us so successful over the years and revamped our brand to stay true to our past, while looking ahead to future goals. ARCH remains the bold orange color that has consistently represented the brand, but added the words Development Advisors as a clear representation of our value proposition and commitment to clients. From expanding and remodeling existing facilities to conceptualizing and constructing new environments, our project management services guide the building process from vision to occupancy.
