WALNUT VILLAGE CONVERSION CONSTRUCTION PROGRESS

Located in Anaheim, California, Walnut Village Retirement Community is currently undergoing a conversion project designed to enhance and expand its Independent Living accommodations. The Walnut Village Memory Care to Independent Living Conversion project consists of the repurposing of approximately 14,000 square feet of ground floor space, including 14 former Memory Care units and associated support spaces, into seven spacious new Independent Living apartments. These new residences will feature multiple-bedroom layouts, enhanced interior spaces, and upgraded finishes throughout. The project will strengthen the community's position within the senior living market by aligning its residential offerings with evolving resident preferences and market demand. Construction has commenced and will progress into Q2 of 2027.
